Seattle, (AP)—Nightfall left unanswered last night the mystery of the fate of 45 men who abandoned the freighter Pennsylvania in the stormy North Pacific on Wednesday afternoon.

No further word was heard from ships searching in the area except the dismal information the weather was still bad, with snow flurries, turbulent seas and 40-mile-an-hour winds complicating the search task.

A Coast Guard flying boat returned to Seattle after a day-long near-water-level search with nothing to report. "We didn't see a thing," Cmdr. R. M. Dudley, chief pilot, said. "Not a trace."

2 Americans, 21 Others Die In Plane Crash

Caernarvon, Wales, (AP)—An Irish airliner crashed and burned last night in the rugged Welsh mountains during a blinding snowstorm. All 23 persons aboard, including two believed to be Americans, were reported killed.

Three bodies were recovered some distance from the wreckage on the side of 2,860-foot Moel Siabod. There were 20 passengers and three crewmen.

A passenger list at Northolt airport in London carried the name of William Arthur Lynch, of New York. Also listed was Thomas J. Carol, of Lexington, with no state listed.

The plane, a twin-engine DC-3 of the Aer Lingus, an Irish line, was en route from London to Dublin when it encountered high winds, sleet and rain.

The crash was near 3,560-foot Mt. Snowdon, highest peak in Wales and south Britain. The plane smashed into the mountain shortly before 7:10 p. m. (2:10 p. m. EST).

The crash was the first Aer Lingus had since it began flights in 1936.

HST Praises Ike But Will Oppose Him

Washington, (AP)—President Truman made plain yesterday he will take the stump against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower if the general wins this year's Republican nomination for president.

The President said he did not think any Republican would be good for the country. Mr. Truman wouldn't say whether he himself will run again. He said he would make that decision some time before the Republicans hold their convention in July. But he told his news conference no matter whom the Democrats nominate, he would work to get him elected.

Repeatedly the President spoke glowingly of Eisenhower, of what a grand man he is and how good a job he's doing. Mr. Truman said he will keep him on as supreme commander of the Allied forces in Europe as long as Eisenhower will stay there.

After this high praise of Eisenhower, a reporter asked: "Do you mean if the next president cannot be a Democrat, you think General Eisenhower would be good for the country?"

Mr. Truman said he didn't say that. He said he doesn't think the country would be good under any Republican president. Mr. Truman joined in the laughter.

GOP Demands Truman Fire Philip Jessup

Washington, (AP)—Thirty-eight Republican senators demanded yesterday that President Truman recall Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup on the ground that the American people have "no confidence" in him.

Jessup, whose name figured in the Communist-in-government charges aired by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), is now in Paris as the No. 1 negotiator for the U. S. delegation to the United Nations General Assembly.

On the Senate floor, Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) charged that President Truman in effect committed "a violation of the constitutional relations" between the Senate and the White House by appointing Jessup to the U. N. post.

Hero's Welcome Awaits Carlsen When He Reaches Falmouth Today

A semi-trailer rig rolls into Milford bringing nation's goods to this trainless town.

Milford One Of 25,000 'Trainless Towns' Linked To Rest Of United States By Trucks

(By Central Press)
Milford, Pa.—If some evil genie were to turn the transportation clock back only 35 years—people in more than 25,000 American communities would find their standard of living had gone all the way back to the Gay Nineties.

They are the residents of the cities and towns all over the country which rely entirely on motor truck transportation for every mouthful of food, every stitch of clothing, every ounce of material of any kind which makes life possible, let alone comfortable and happy.

Yet, because of the contribution of five million persons and better than eight million trucks, natives of the nation's "trainless towns" see first-run Hollywood movies, buy the latest Fifth Avenue fashions, stock their refrigerators with every out-of-season delicacy as soon and as easily as do residents of New York, Chicago or San Francisco.

Thirty-five years ago—in some cases only 15 or 20 years ago—there were big differences between the ease and comfort of life in the major metropolitan centers and the "off-line" communities. Because of highway transportation, these differences have largely vanished today.

Industries employing local people receive raw materials by truck, ship out their finished products over the road. Just as radio brings top-flight entertainment from Broadway and Hollywood to lonely ranches or isolated "backwoods" lumber-camps, so too does the flexible and versatile trucking industry banish the miles between the point of origin and the point of sale.

Because they do it efficiently, trucks now carry all or part of the way, two-thirds of the nation's freight tonnage.

A classic example of what this newest link in the transport chain means to an American community is to be found here in Milford. It could be Albany, Ind., or any one of the thousands of towns just like it. The pattern is the same.

Milford lies in the Pocono mountain resort area and the nearest rail point is Port Jervis, N. Y., eight miles away. The winter population of Milford is about 1,200, but during the vacation months this swells to some 5,000. The town is the county seat of Pike county and is the shopping and distribution center for a number of smaller communities.

Burgess Charles A. Stroh, of Milford, makes it his duty to be informed about business life in his town. He's a life-long resident.

"Years ago," Burgess Stroh says, "everybody bought enough cabbages and potatoes in the autumn to last through the winter. The women did their own canning and baking . . . they had to. It was the only way they could feed their families. Now things are different.

"Milk, bread, fresh fruit and produce are trucked into town several times a week. There's no need, now, for Mrs. Stroh to stock up our basement or spend long hours canning and baking, getting ready for winter."

August Metz owns Milford's wholesale food plant. He stocks Oregon turkeys, Cuban lobster tails, Mexican shrimp, trout from Denmark, Peaches and melons from the Carolinas and the Del-Mar-Va peninsula, go from his warehouse to the tables of Milford.

The Milford Dispatch trucks newspaper from Scranton. Cuddeback's hardware store gets its stock from wholesalers in Newark, N. J., New York City, Boyersford and other Pennsylvania towns.

The Grace Bakery and Donut Bar in Milford sells ice cream from Allentown, Pa., prepared yeast from Middletown, N. Y., soups from Scranton, and a variety of supplies from Albany, N. Y. Mrs. Grace Schleutermann runs the store, her husband does the baking at night.

A bus line connects Milford with Stroudsburg, 35 miles to the south-west, and Highway Route 209 provides automobile owners easy access to that community and others in the Poconos.

It is interesting to note that the late Gifford Pinchot, whose home was in Milford, was father of the road-building program that literally "took the farmers out of the mud" while he was governor of Pennsylvania.

Milford is a "trainless town"—one of more than 25,000 in the country—and very well satisfied with the way things are.

Reds Emphasize 'Grave Crisis' Unless Allies Agree To Terms

Munsan, Korea, Friday, (AP)—Friction over the Korean truce talks hit a higher pitch today, as Communist propaganda broadcasts emphasized a "grave crisis" unless the Allies accept "final" Red terms on supervising an armistice.

Miners To End Work Stoppage

Lansford, (AP)—Nearly 6,000 hard coal miners will return to their jobs at operations of the Lehigh Navigation Coal Co. today.

The miners, idle since last Tuesday, were instructed to go back to the coal pits by the Panther Valley General Mine committee yesterday after the company announced it met with union representatives as soon as work had been resumed.

The work stoppage was called by the Panther Valley committee in protest over the proposed lay-off or transfer of eight Lehigh Navigation Coal Co. miners. Workers at the company's Nesquehoning pit walked out last Monday and the rest of the Panther valley mines were closed down the following day.

The broadcast quoted Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang as saying, "any demand to interfere in our internal affairs is absolutely unthinkable. This is our unshakable, I repeat, unshakable, stand."

The Reds construe the right to rebuild military airfields during a truce as an "internal affair." The Allies want such rebuilding halted during an armistice.

Tax Bureau 'Gets Tough'

Washington, (AP)—The Treasury yesterday abandoned a long-standing policy of letting tax evaders escape criminal prosecution if they voluntarily confess their fraud and pay up.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder announced the sudden reversal in policy as part of a new "get tough" drive in the wake of the nation-wide tax scandals.

Steps also were announced to speed up tax prosecutions and to eliminate "influence" from such cases.

Meanwhile, it was learned, the Treasury and the Justice department are feuding backstage over one step in the drive.

The Treasury is cutting out lengthy reviews of tax fraud cases by high officials in Washington. It wants the Justice department, which handles the cases in court, to do the same. But Justice officials insist their numerous high-level reviews are needed to perfect the cases and protect taxpayers from unjustified prosecution.

Transit Strike Hits Baltimore

Baltimore, (AP)—Not a street car, trackless trolley or transit bus budged in Baltimore yesterday and the nation's sixth largest city was one big traffic snarl at rush hours.

The 3,200 union workers who drive and maintain the Baltimore Transit company's vehicles went on strike at 4 a. m., seeking a 24-cent increase to bring their base pay to $1.87 an hour.

The traffic tangle was the main result. A check of industries, stores and business houses showed most employees got to work in car pools or by thumbing.

Churchill Leaves

New York, (AP)—Winston Churchill left for Ottawa late last night by train after bad flying weather forced him to cut short his New York visit with financier Bernard Baruch.

Mrs. Carlsen Says Prayer Answered

Woodbridge, N. J. (AP)—Mrs. Agnes Carlsen, wife of the rescued skipper, said yesterday her prayers had been answered, then added, "but I can't take any more."

Mrs. Carlsen, a matronly-looking woman in her 30s, was overcome by emotion when she heard the first bulletin of her husband's rescue from the doomed Flying Enterprise.

All she could sob was "I'm very happy my husband has been rescued."

About a half hour later she regained her composure and talked at length with the family minister, Rev. Kirkegaard Jensen. He is pastor of St. Stephen's Danish Lutheran church in nearby Perth Amboy.

Mrs. Carlsen, from the seclusion of the home of a relative where she had been ill, said:

"I prayed that this would happen and the children prayed and we knew that our prayers would be answered. We always felt Daddy would come back to us all right."

When told that Carlsen was uninjured in the rescue, she said in a soft voice "I am very, very thankful to God. But I can't take any more. I can't take any more."

The first news of Carlsen's rescue was in an Associated Press bulletin read to the mother of two children over the telephone from the study of Rev. Mr. Jensen.

The later minute-by-minute reports, describing the rescue, were taken to the pastor by the Perth Amboy Evening News and read to Mrs. Carlsen.

Rev. Mr. Jensen said his phone had been ringing constantly with persons offering large sums for exclusive rights to Mrs. Carlsen's story of life with her husband.

Several major airlines, he added, have offered to fly him and Mrs. Carlsen and the children, Sonja, 11, and Karen, 7, to meet the captain.

However, the pastor added, judging by Mrs. Carlsen's present nervous condition, the trip seemed unlikely at present.

Mrs. Carlsen has said she was sure her husband's refusal to leave his stricken ship was because of his deep feeling for the traditions of the sea.

Once, she said, about eight years ago, she begged him to remain ashore. "He did try it, for about a year," she related. "But he is born for the sea. He's happy there."

Defense Claims Costello Feared He'd Go To Jail

New York, (AP)—Frank Costello's lawyer said yesterday the racketeer balked at Senate crime probes' questions for fear he'd land in jail.

Defense Attorney George Wolf made that claim to try to prove Costello acted in good faith and was afraid he'd incriminate himself before the Kefauver Crime committee last March.

A jury hearing contempt of the Senate charges against the 60-year-old Costello was sent out of the courtroom while Wolf offered his arguments to Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan.

Rest, Good Surgery, Nursing Remain Best Cure For TB

Harrisburg, (AP)—Good surgery and nursing and plenty of rest still remain the best cure for tuberculosis despite the development of new "wonder" drugs.

This contention came from the State Health department yesterday. Streptomycin and other new medical discoveries "are excellent drugs and vaccines that aid us in our fight to eradicate tuberculosis," the department said, but added:

"There remains much to be done."

Meanwhile, it emphasized, the long-established treatment of rest, continued surgery and nursing remain the best way to fight TB.

The department made the observation in a publication which outlines the State's new anti-tuberculosis program.

Noting that although TB is still the most common cause of death among people from 15 to 40, the department sounded this optimistic note:

"Through a well coordinated and vigorous attack, it should be possible within a generation to virtually eliminate tuberculosis as a cause of death."

Enterprise Sinks; Turmoil Rescues Carlsen, Dancy

Falmouth, Eng., (AP)—A hero's welcome reception was being prepared last night in Falmouth for Capt. Kurt Carlsen.

Carlsen rested aboard the British tug Turmoil after leaping into the stormy Atlantic earlier yesterday from his doomed ship, the Flying Enterprise, Kenneth Dancy, mate of the Turmoil, stuck with him to the last aboard the freighter and took the final leap with him into the sea.

Both men stood on the deck of the Turmoil and watched the seven-year-old Enterprise make her death plunge.

Debris from a million dollar cargo littered the water. Foghorns of escort craft wailed in salute at this end to an epic two-week struggle against the sea.

Guzik Wins Acquittal Of Contempt

Washington, (AP)—Jacob (Greasy Thumb) Guzik, who refused to testify in the Senate Crime committee's sensational investigation, was acquitted yesterday of contempt of Congress.

U. S. District Judge Edward A. Tamm ruled that Guzik, whose name long has been linked with the Capone gang and other Chicago crime syndicates, was within his constitutional rights in refusing to answer the committee's questions.

In granting a defense motion for a judgment of acquittal, Judge Tamm said he reached his conclusion "with some difficulty," adding:

"But the court feels we are committed to a government of laws, not of men."

The ruling followed previous decisions by other judges that a witness cannot be compelled to answer questions that might tend to incriminate him.

Truman Gives Cleanup Job To McGrath

Washington, (AP)—President Truman announced yesterday he has discarded his plan for a special commission to root out corruption in government and has given the housecleaning job to Attorney General J. Howard McGrath.

McGrath's selection drew immediate fire from Republican members of Congress.

Rep. Hillings (R-Calif.) said the move means "a whitewash is coming." He demanded in a statement that the House investigate the Justice department, headed by McGrath.

Rep. Bakewell (R-Mo.) renewed in the House his demand for McGrath's resignation, declaring that if Mr. Truman was sincere in his desire for a cleanup "he would start at the top."

"The President might well clean up his own house," commented Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.).

There have been numerous reports in Washington recently that McGrath might leave the Cabinet as a result of tax scandals unearthed by a House committee.

The 6,711-ton Isbrandtsen line ship, listing heavily to port since a hurricane cracked her decks Dec. 26, started sinking about 3:16 p. m. (10:18 a. m., EST). Within a few minutes Carlsen and Dancy were off. Her funnel dipping into the whitecaps, the Enterprise threshed crazily flat on her side of the boiling swells. Stern first, she finally slid out of sight at 4:10 p. m.

A small American flag flew from the aft section of her superstructure as she plunged to the bottom at latitude 49-38 north, longitude 04-23 west, about 35 miles southeast of Lizard Point, where English channel tides challenge the currents of the Atlantic.

Stay-put Carlsen's luck had run out.

The Danish-born skipper, 37, watched wearily from the deck of the Turmoil this end to his dream of riding the Flying Enterprise back to a safe harbor with the 2,650-ton cargo of mail, pig iron, coffee and furniture that was stowed below when he headed her out of Hamburg for New York Dec. 21.

The U. S. Navy invited Carlsen and Dancy to spend the night aboard the U. S. Destroyer Willard Keith, one of the escort vessels, but Carlsen finally decided to remain on the Turmoil.

The tug anchored in the choppy water of Falmouth's outer harbor about two miles from the main quays, as flashing motor car lights and the tooting of small boat whistles gave a preview of the heroes' welcome Carlsen and Dancy are to ashore today.

Among those on hand for the welcome were Carlsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Carlsen of Hilleroed, Denmark, the captain's birthplace. They flew to Britain Sunday.

Terse messages from men concerned with his safety sped Carlsen's decision that he and Dancy would have to get off the freighter. They left her at 3:26 p. m., abandoning ship with lifejackets and then climbing a rope ladder to the Turmoil's rail. In the water only three or four minutes, they changed into dry clothes on the tug.

Carlsen had remained on the freighter when he turned his 40 crewmen and 10 passengers over to four rescue ships Dec. 29 about 320 miles off England's Lands End. One passenger died. For a week Carlsen was alone. Then Dancy, sturdy 27-year-old mate of the Turmoil, clambered aboard last Friday and helped Carlsen make fast a wire towline, designed to meet any strain up to 65 tons—twice that of a normal operation in good weather. Playing her charge on 750 yards of wire, the Turmoil hauled the flying Enterprise to within 50 miles of Falmouth and safety. But freshening weather and sawing action Wednesday parted the towline, five inches in circumference. All efforts to rig another failed.

Both Carlsen and tug skipper Dan Parker, whose vessel was under contract on a no delivery-no pay basis, were beginning to lose.

A dropping barometer and rising winds gave warning of worse weather to come. At noon the 100 men in the convoy fleet—aboard the destroyer Keith, the Turmoil, the French tug Arbellet 25 and the Associated Press tug Englishman—were aware the end was approaching. A British lifesaving vessel, the 507-ton Satellite, put out from Penzance with breeches buoy and boat landing gear.

A signal light on the Turmoil blinked through the mid-afternoon murk, spelling out "C-L-O-S-E."

The tugs maneuvered in from positions 300 yards or more away and waited, ready to snatch up either man if he appeared among the fragments of cargo eddying from the hatches in a swelling stream.

Both swam to the Turmoil.

Farmers Told To Increase Production

The biggest farm production in the nation's history will be needed in 1952 to meet requirements here and abroad, county farmers were told yesterday.

The Production and Marketing administration said Monroe county producers are being urged to increase local output in accordance with production hikes asked by Washington.

Pennsylvania acreage goals for the year were described as: corn (for grain) 7,340, a rise of 10 per cent; soybeans (for beans) 25,000, a rise of 30 per cent; potatoes, 800, a 10 per cent rise; tobacco, 31,500, a 10 per cent decrease; and the following crops with the same acreage as last year, oats, 800,000; buckwheat, 51,000; hay (all), 2,303,000.

Locally the figures mean farmers should plant 11 acres of corn (for grain) when last year they planted 10; 13 acres of soybeans instead of 10; 11 acres of potatoes instead of 10; buckwheat and oats, same as last year.

In increasing the acres planted, farmers were urged to use non-productive hay land and idle cropland.

Crash Occurs At McIlhaney

McIlhaney—Damages of $250 were caused when a truck and car collided here at 10:45 a.m. yesterday at the intersection of Routes 115 and 209.

Brookheads State police said the truck driver was Nathan Kresge, 17, Saylorsburg, and the car operator Clair J. Miller, 27, Brookheads.

Damages were $50 to the front of the truck and $200 to the front of the auto. Police said the collision occurred when the truck halted at the stop sign, and was struck by the other vehicle. There were no injuries.

Cherry Valley Poplar Valley

Mrs. Francis Beyer
Ph. Say, 14-R-9

Rev. and Mrs. Levergood were Thursday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Albert.

Mrs. Agnes Beyer called on Mrs. Thomas Carson Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Claude Metzgar, Mrs. Celestia Anthony and Mrs. Wilfred Wagner called on Mrs. Fred Adolphsen Thursday afternoon.

Tommy and Peggy Carson were supper guests of Philip and Susan Brewer on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Carson were in Reading attending the funeral of Mr. Carson's nephew, Robert Whitehead, who was killed several weeks ago while serving in the Navy in Pearl Harbor.

On Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dennis and daughter visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Calvin of Chippewick Drive. Mrs. Calvin showed some old bells, deeds and newspapers that had belonged to her great grandfather John Fellecker and her grandfather William Fellecker who lived on what is now the Jerome Blakeslee farm. In 1821 farmers sold butter for 9c a pound and bought coffee for 90c. In 1894 there was still a Centre St. in Stroudsburg and Wyckoff's was called the New York Store.

Orien Reish has been visiting many of the local farmers as part of his job of committeeman of the P.M.A. and the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Portland Bank Elects Board Of Directors

Portland—The annual stockholders meeting of the Portland National Bank elected the following directors to serve during 1952: William H. Cowell, George W. Dennis, Walter E. Emery, Willard C. Hartzell, William Seguire, Roy A. Smith.

The board will meet for reorganization Monday.

Adventists To Observe Prayer Day

Special prayers for Christian people in areas where religious freedom has been curtailed will be offered in the Seventh-day Adventist church here Saturday.

The Day of Fasting and Prayer will also include petitions for the safety of men in military service, for the rapid completion of Christian work around the world, and for a lasting peace.

The Prayer day has been appointed by denominational leaders meeting in special session from all parts of the world. Nearly 10,000 Adventist congregations will unite on the same day for this service.

R. R. Adams, pastor of the Stroudsburg church, explained that the church members spend a week in spiritual preparation, including intensive personal Bible study and prayer by individuals and groups in homes preceding the special day.

Pastor Adams said, "The world today often overlooks the one thing that can solve the complex problems we face—that is spiritual power. Earnest prayers, following a thorough spiritual preparation will bring definite results."

Snyder and children Timothy and Geitha of Mt. Bethel.

Sunday afternoon callers of the Thomas Carsons were Mr. and Mrs. Purdy Carson, Mrs. Myrtle Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carigan, and Mr. and Mrs. Ora Lambert. Later Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carson and children enjoyed a pork dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beyer and family.

South Sterling Postmaster To Be Named

An examination to fill the position of fourth class postmaster at South Sterling was announced yesterday by the U. S. Civil Service commission.

Receipt of applications will close on January 31, and the salary for the post is $2,336 a year.

The examination will be held in Mount Pocono, and is open to all who are citizens of the United States and who reside within the territory supplied by the postoffice. Applicants must be at least 21 and not yet 65.

Date of the examination will be stated on admission cards mailed to applicants.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service treated 451,187 premises against rats in 1950.

Junior High To Launch Drive

The annual magazine subscription drive at East Stroudsburg Junior High school begins Friday, Jan. 18, it was announced yesterday by Principal Theodore Miller.

The drive is carried on "in an effort to secure funds to improve educational opportunities for our children," Miller said.

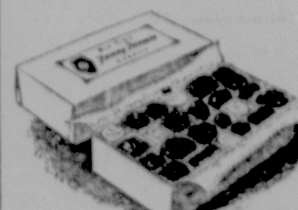

Miller points out that during the summer of 1951 the "fund provided sufficient money to cover the purchase and installation of a modern, efficient public address system in the school auditorium". In past years the fund had provided a motion picture projector for the school.

Stroudsburg School Board Authorizes Salary Increases

Action Taken In Accordance With New Law

Salary increases totaling $4,700 for a number of teachers in the Stroudsburg schools were authorized by the Board of School Directors at its first meeting of 1952 in Stroudsburg High school last night.

The increases, retroactive to the beginning of the school year, were granted in accordance with legislation passed by the General Assembly late last year. Some teachers received raises at the start of the school term, and last night's action covers all those who did not receive the full $400 increase over last year's salary.

The salary of the superintendent, Earl F. Groner, also was increased from $6,000 to $8,000 per year in accordance with the State program.

The school board empowered the secretary to advertise for competitive bids for steel bleachers for the Stroudsburg High school athletic field. The new bleachers will replace the present wooden ones, giving the field a seating capacity of 3,000.

The board's financial report for the year just ended showed a total balance of $113,011.57. This was subdivided into the following categories: General fund—$48,402.73; coupon account—$2,621.73; sinking fund—$99.09 and a total of $61,888.50 invested in U. S. Treasury Bonds, at cost.

Bills in the sum of $2,820.81 were ordered paid.

Board members took action last night to request their solicitor, A. W. Williams, to attend all board meetings.

Salary increases were granted to the following employees: Mrs. Chas. Allen, secretary $250 per year; $250 increases to custodians at school buildings—both increases retroactive to July 1, 1951.

The board received the resignation of Mrs. Jean Calli, home economics teacher at the high school. Mrs. Calli's resignation is effective Feb. 1.

The "in-service" teacher-training program, conducted by Pennsylvania State College, will begin at Stroudsburg High school next Wednesday, Jan. 16, according to official notification read at the meeting.

T. Manning Curtis, supervisor of the driver training program at the Stroudsburg school, was authorized to attend a "driver education school" April 18 and 19 at Hershey, Pa.

The following committees were named for 1952 by President Norman O. Bender:

Long range building program—Herbert Crane, Gerald Anderson and Norman O. Bender; building and grounds—Norman O. Bender, Dr. M. R. Metzgar and Elwood Granacher; finance—Gerald Anderson, Herbert Crane and Norman O. Bender; teacher—Dr. M. R. Metzgar, Joseph S. Wallace and Warren Loney; athletics—Warren Loney, Joseph S. Wallace and Elwood Granacher; exonerations—Joseph S. Wallace, Dr. M. R. Metzgar and Herbert Crane; playground—Elwood Granacher, Warren Loney and Gerald Anderson.

The first-named persons on all committees will serve as chairmen for that committee.

Rake Officially A Newcomer To Court House But, As Builder, He's Familiar With Structure

Of the three county commissioners now in office, only one has not previously held a major political post. He is W. Adolph Rake.

Commissioner Rake is a big, calm-faced man who somewhat resembles the late Wendell L. Wilkie, and, like the former presidential candidate, is a Republican.

He was first known in East Stroudsburg as a high school athlete back in the days when America was taking on the Kaiser's Germany for the first time.

Rake has been building since he reached voting age. He went to University of Pennsylvania in 1922 he took a leave of absence from the university to head for New York and the opportunity of increasing his income.

In New York he went into the building business on his own, returned to East Stroudsburg in 1925 at the call of his father, A. L. Rake, to lend a hand for one year.

The year stretched into a longer period, and Rake became the "Son" of "A. L. Rake and Son."

Up to that time the building business had been run mostly on a cost-plus basis for the larger projects. The younger Rake felt that the system was outmoded, and A. L. Rake and Son was among the early firms which switched to a contract basis for building.

Young Rake assumed responsibility for providing estimates, securing contract work and handling details and field work in the firm.

He's been busy in Monroe county ever since—a 27-year period.

In one sense, Rake probably knows more about the court house than any man occupying a post in it: he was construction superintendent when the court house addition was built, and laid out the structure from the plans, established elevations and locations of all columns inside and outside the building.

Other Rake specialty jobs include the basement under the Wyckoff store in Stroudsburg, and a similar building in Hackettstown, N. J. He was the contractor in the building of scores of residences in the county.

Most recent major job was at the General hospital in East Stroudsburg, where his share of the building involved a $620,000 contract.

Rake is married, lives at East Stroudsburg RD 1. A son, William Adolph Jr., is turning out as a chip off the older block; he's in his third year as an architecture student at University of Pennsylvania.

Rake's offices are at 223 Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

First Exhibits Arrive For Farm Show

Harrisburg (AP)—The first of 11,000 exhibitors who will take part in the 1952 Pennsylvania Farm show here, began arriving yesterday.

The exhibitors immediately started putting their equipment and demonstrations in order for the opening of the show's building doors on Monday morning.

They will be competing for a record pot of $55,100 in prizes this year.

Along with the exhibitors came truckloads of bawling cattle and whinnying horses which will participate in dairy exhibits and horse-pulling contest among other things.

The first livestock exhibits to arrive at the farm show were 12 Belgian horses brought in by Charles Orford, Waynesburg. They were followed closely by a dozen Guernsey dairy cattle entered by Robert Mofat, Dalton RD, Lackawanna county.

A novel feature of the show this year will be the arrival of some 50 "flying" farmers to the big exposition by plane. The mass flight, dependent on weather conditions, will be conducted by the Pennsylvania Flying Farmers association.

Ag Teachers Review Books To Be Entered In Farm Show

County vocational agriculture teachers held a meeting last night at Chestnut Hill Township school, Brodheadsville, to review winning project books entered in the state-wide contest in December.

Exhibits from various schools in the county which will be taken to the Pennsylvania Farm show in Harrisburg next week were brought to the meeting for display and discussion by teachers.

Announcement was made at last night's meeting that three schools intend using chartered buses for transportation of their students to the farm show. Stroudsburg High school will send a busload to Harrisburg on Tuesday; Tannersville, Bangor and Pen Argyl will send students on the following day. Bangor school will use two buses in transporting its students.

The teachers discussed plans for their next meeting, to be held February 7 at Chestnut Hill school, Brodheadsville.

At that time Frank Anthony, of the agriculture education department, State College, will continue the tractor-maintenance workshop which was begun last summer.

Teachers attending last night's meeting were Frank Varney, Chestnut Hill; Clifford Stroud, Polk; John Montgomery, Pocono; Elmer Veety, Stroudsburg; George Ott, Bangor and Theodore Hoffman, Pen Argyl. Meeting was under the supervision of Wilmer B. Frisbie, Vocational Agriculture Supervisor for Monroe county.

Safecracker Confesses Milford Job

A confessed safecracker who admitted looting court houses at Milford, Tunkhannock and Montrose was in Onondaga County prison, Syracuse, N. Y., yesterday.

Pfc. Glenn James of the Milford State police questioned the prisoner—Francis J. McCarthy, Fulton, N. Y.—at the prison yesterday.

The arrest, made last Sunday by New York State police in a Syracuse suburb, may clear up the Milford case in which $30 was taken from the Pike county court house.

Oneida, N. Y. police, who made the arrest, said McCarthy has admitted other statements admitting he burglarized the court house at Tunkhannock of more than $400 and the Susquehanna County court house at Montrose of $662.

McCarthy told police he worked with an accomplice in many cases. The other man, Harold Hendrickson, 29, New York Mills, Minn., is serving a 32-year prison sentence in Missouri for post office burglaries.

Police said the pair accounted for a trail of other burglaries stretching over a six-state area. McCarthy is charged with at least 40 burglaries in New York State alone in recent months—which netted him between $5,000 and $7,000, police said.

It has not yet been disclosed whether McCarthy will be prosecuted first in Pennsylvania or New York State.

WSCS Plans Panel On Home, Community

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the East Stroudsburg Methodist church has postponed its meeting from January 17 to January 24.

Large Gasoline Tanker Rips Out Guard Rails, Rolls Down 40-Foot Bank Into River

Portland—A giant gasoline tank truck rolled down a 40-foot bank into the river near here yesterday but the driver escaped.

The accident occurred a mile and a half south of the Delaware bridge on Route 6, the New Jersey side of the river, about 2:30 a. m.

Injured seriously by the crash, Allison Price, 34, Scranton, was reported in "fair" condition at Warren County hospital, Phillipsburg. He is under treatment for shock, head and shoulder injuries.

The tanker, owned by the Seaboard Transit Lines Inc., Scranton, was proceeding toward New York over the icy road when a front tire blew out. The driver evidently lost control of the big vehicle, which went off the curve, ripped out eight guard rails and went over on its side. Price managed to escape.

The vehicle's weight carried it on down the bank and into the river. Only about a foot of the cab showed above the surface. The tanker was pulled out of the river last night.

Price was taken to the hospital by a New Jersey ambulance called by passing truck drivers.

Tractor Driving Contest

One of the new and certainly one of the most interesting features of the 1952 Pennsylvania Farm Show, which opens in Harrisburg next week, will be the tractor driving contest in which twenty teenage boys will compete.

The youngsters will be judged on their ability to maneuver the tractors with skill and safety, and this added event is bound to command the attention of the thousands who will jam the arena.

Too often, since the tractor has replaced the horse for so many farm duties, we have read the tragic stories of men whose death resulted from tractor accidents, usually because the vehicle upset and crushed them beneath it.

So this safety and skill contest for the young competitors at the Farm Show will have additional interest, since it may well impress upon those who see it the necessity for treating the ubiquitous farm tractor with proper respect.

Back to the Mines

Congress has gone back to work. It has a mountain of work.

Mainly, issues before the new session involve efforts to combat Communism. On these things turn the security of America and the peace of the world.

But hot domestic issues also are on the schedule. As headlines, there are the far-flung congressional investigations of the executive branch.

There are enough problems of major rank to keep the congressmen up to their ears in heavy work for most of the year.

But this is the year when Americans elect a President, all of the House members and a third of the Senate.

So politicking inevitably will get a heavy play in the deliberations of Congress. And the desire to shut off the session ahead of the July presidential conventions and devote the rest of the year to the campaign will be paramount.

The alternative is for Congress to start faster, and get the legislative program rolling at the outset.

Then there will be plenty of time for partisan politics between the July conventions and the November election.

Vinson and UMT

For many years this country will have to keep its defenses strong. Tyrannies are not toppled in a day.

But this nation cannot afford a big permanent trained military force. The alternative is a big reserve.

The way to acquire such a reserve is through Universal Military Training. The National Security Training Commission has recommended that Congress immediately approve such a program.

But, because much of the country's man-power is being drafted into extend service in the armed forces, under the pressure of the Russian threat to peace, a full-strength Universal Military Training Program is not possible.

Chairman Vinson, of the House Armed Services Committee, proposes as an alternative, a "pilot" program, open to 60,000 volunteers. His reasons are:

Such a program would not interfere with the general draft. It would not require expensive new facilities in the midst of the emergency.

Moreover, it would get UMT started.

In the foreseeable future, this country cannot drop its guard. In its military strength lies the best hope for peace.

Universal Military Training will provide that strength.

Surveys show that we are using our eyes more than 30 per cent more than a generation ago.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A visitor from Australia, notes the Yorkville Post, walked into the Rolls-Royce showroom, and paid cash on the line for the most expensive limousine model.

"Ship it to my sheep ranch outside of Sydney," he instructed the sales manager. A year later he was back to order another car. "Best model I ever saw," he exclaimed, "and you can quote me on that. I particularly approve of the glass partition between the front and rear seats. Most ingenious feature of the whole car."

"Why do you say that?" inquired the Rolls-Royce representative. "It's like this," explained the Australian. "I roll that window up, and I'd like to see the sheep that can lick the back of my neck while I'm driving it to market!"

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

Truman's Green Thumb: Harry Truman's good fortune in 1948 was due to the inadequacy of the Republican campaign against him. No matter whose decision it was to conduct a soft campaign, the American voter did not respond to it and Mr. Dewey went down to defeat. Many who criticized Mr. Dewey after the election favored the soft campaign before it failed.

Truman is now facing a sadly divided Republican party. It is no longer a question of the usual competition among political leaders for the nomination; it has become a wide cleavage involving bitter personal hatreds which will outlast the convention in 1952, as bitterness outlasted 1948. For instance, should the Willkie-Wall Streeters succeed in putting over General Eisenhower as they succeeded in achieving the Willkie nomination by blitz, an astounding number of Republicans will stay away from the polls. It is not that they dislike Eisenhower but that they hate the Wall Street political businessman who has been wrecking their party.

Most offensive to many Republicans has been the Eisenhower practice of shilly-shally. Their attitude is that if he wants the nomination, why not say so? Why not go after it? If he is too big to fight for the presidency, he is too big to be president.

That is the issue for many Republicans, because they feel that the military man is often incapable of subordinating his personality to the give and take of civilian life, that he is too accustomed to command rather than to the compromises essential to the maintenance of a free society. They distrust the man who invariably speaks through others, and particularly through men who, in their own right, are of secondary significance. Most of all, they fear the invasion of their party, as in the time of Willkie, by disappointed New Dealers. At the moment, this fear is justified as so many of Franklin D. Roosevelt's entourage are not given house room by Harry Truman. Many of them are willing to be either Republicans or Democrats.

The anxiety of the Eisenhower group develops the suspicion that those who support his candidacy are more frightened at failure than he is. This is especially true of the Wall Street group, who are for some reason not quite clear, more opposed to Robert A. Taft than to Harry Truman. They have made a fetish of Eisenhower but they do him the injustice of forcing his hand.

The events over the past weekend were so unusual as to bring confusion into an already confused political party.

It all started when Harold Stassen flew to France, spent a couple of hours with Eisenhower, flew back to the United States and declared himself to be a candidate for the presidency. As it is beyond probability that Harold Stassen could be nominated, practical politicians argued about the situation in this fashion:

1. Stassen is a stalking horse for Eisenhower;

2. Stassen believes that Eisenhower will not run and is placing himself in a bargaining position within the Republican party;

3. Stassen is building a position so that he can throw whatever delegates he gets to Eisenhower, while he accepts the vice presidency.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. and Harold Stassen are also reputed to be hopeful that should General Eisenhower become president, the secretaryship of state would be a desirable sign of gratitude.

Senator Lodge thereupon projected himself into the picture to offset Stassen by announcing the Eisenhower candidacy and giving the impression that he is authorized to speak. From Paris came some, but politically inadequate, confirmation.

Eisenhower's statement, from Paris was awkward, inept, and for the politician altogether confusing. He still is not a pre-convention candidate. He will accept the nomination if it comes to him; he will run for president as a Republican if he is asked to; he will not lift a finger to get it. In a word, he is above party and country. To the politicians, it smacks of Napoleonism.

And their trouble is that they do not know whether Eisenhower is responsible for this or whether the Duff-Dewey-Lodge politicians are responsible; or whether it is the Willkieite businessmen and their public relations counsel who are responsible. They want to know with whom they are dealing.

Furthermore, it is impossible to understand how, in fairness, General Eisenhower can be a candidate for the presidency and Supreme Commander of NATO simultaneously. In one instance, he is preparing to attack and denounce Harry Truman; in the other, Truman is his direct boss.

Unless Eisenhower is the Republican candidate with Truman's consent and blessing, which is unbelievable, his position is currently untenable.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington -- In a current report that traces 30 years of Soviet espionage in the United States, members of the House committee on un-American activities have dusted off two excellent case histories of former Federal employees who should never have been put on the government payroll to start with.

They are Philip Olin and Mary Jane Keeney, husband and wife, who lapped at the New Deal and Fair Deal spending trough, for years. Mrs. Keeney is currently haggling with the United Nations where she was employed in the document control section of the secretariat. It seems there is some question about her fitness for the tax-free job she held. The whereabouts of her husband, Philip, are not known at present.

The House report relates that Mr. Keeney came to Washington in 1940, taking a job in the library of Congress, where he stayed until 1943. From here he switched to the Foreign Economic Administration, staying until 1945. At that time he was employed by the War Department for duty in Tokyo, Japan.

In 1947 he was relieved of his duties. But neither Keeney nor the War Department will say why.

Keeney was an employee from 1931 to 1937 of the University of Montana, the House report states. According to the report, he was dismissed for incompetence. Yet he had no trouble getting on the government payroll.

Mrs. Keeney got on the Federal payroll in 1942, working for the Board of Economic Warfare. Later she worked for Russian War Relief, Inc., and still later as a member of the staff of the United States delegation to the Allied Commission on reparations. In 1946 she went to work for the State department, naturally. In 1948 she got her tax free job with the United Nations in New York.

Mrs. Keeney denied she was a Communist or espionage agent when called before the House committee. Her husband claimed under oath when asked the 564 questions.

Here is a sample of what the House report has to say about the Keeneys:

"Both Philip and Mary Jane Keeney have a record of association with known Communists and with individuals identified in this report as having been engaged in Soviet espionage activities. Among them were Haakon M. Chevalier, Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, and William Ludwig Ullmann, as well as Gerhart Eisler."

During the trial of Judith Coplon an FBI report related another episode in the life of Mrs. Keeney. A summary reads:

"In March of 1946 Mrs. Keeney was aboard the steamship Victory when that vessel arrived in the United States. The report indicated that FBI agents had observed that the vessel was met by Jules Korchin, whom Mary Jane Keeney was observed meeting upon her departure from the vessel. These two individuals were placed under FBI surveillance and were observed to enter the apartment of an individual named Wasserman. Later, on the same date, the FBI agents reported Keeney at a meeting with one Joseph Bernstein, at which time Keeney was observed passing a manila envelope to Bernstein. Bernstein was subsequently observed by the FBI agents meeting Alexander Trachtenberg, Communist party official at which time the manila envelope believed identical with the one originally carried by Bernstein was passed to him."

Miss Bernstein said she had "just two" marriage proposals. And they weren't from the two fellows she thought she was in love with.

Has she formed a mental picture of her dream man?

"I wish I had a dollar for every time I've been asked that. Sometimes I think I should make something up."

Movieland reporters can rest assured on one point. There'll be no hard-to-cover, midnight elopement for this star when she does marry.

"I've always dreamed of a church wedding," Ann said. "There just wouldn't be any other way to do it."

For instance, early in 1871, three secondaries had a quarrel in N. Y. C. They were ex-Sheriff O'Brien, Controller Connolly and Boss Tweed. O'Brien's revenge consisted of turning over Connolly's records to the N. Y. Times. Tweed promptly offered George Jones, the editor, 5 million dollars not to publish them. The Times ran the headline, of course, and simultaneously the decline of Tweed and the spectacular rise of two other men started.

One was a young cartoonist named Thomas Nast, who created the Tammany Tiger with his pen. Tweed offered Nast a half million dollars to stop drawing, but Nast was already out of hearing halfway up the ladder of success to his final destination, the pinnacle of journalistic immortality. The man who pinned the prison stripes on Tweed's dirty shirt was Samuel J. Tilden of Gramercy Park. As a result of his attacks on the Tweed Ring, New York elected him governor in 1874 and the people elected him President in 1876 but he was robbed of the latter. In any event, the fallen body of Tweed was the stepping stone for Tilden's career.

About the turn of the Century, the very best names in New York were engaged in a very bitter fight for control of one of its very best assets—a large insurance company. The quarrelling behind the closed Wall Street doors became loud enough to reach the sensitive ears of Joseph Pulitzer in Park Row. The charges and counter-charges between the battling financial moguls convinced Pulitzer that the forgotten men were the policy holders—the little people who paid the premiums.

Something more than a mere Keeney, was passed to Trachtenberg. Mrs. Keeney stayed on the government payroll another two years, however.

It was in 1948 that President Truman was labeling charges of Communists and left wingers in government as "Red Herrings." Mrs. Keeney by her own assertion is neither, but she sure has a passel of peculiar playmates. As for Philip, somebody ought to make a point of finding out who got him on the government payroll to start with and who nursed his career along once he was employed.

President Truman and others are constantly bemoaning the low salaries paid Federal employees as well as defending their loyalty and brilliance. Well, here are a couple who worked his side of the street that I can't shed a tear over. There are others, some still drawing down tax money, but unless you catch them with their hands in the security cupboard it is difficult to get them fired. Even so, as cumbersome as it is, the loyalty review board since 1947 has managed to fire or scare off the payroll an average of more than 700 a year. That's some progress but not enough.

And when the House committee on un-American activities writes a report entitled "The Shameful Years," there are a lot of administration bigshots in Washington who should hang their heads, including the President of the U. S. A.

Gangs, Graft & Governors
Any gang of public plunderers operating over a period of time is storing up a tremendous political fortune. Not for themselves—but for the men who eventually send them to jail. Crime doesn't pay—for the criminal—but it certainly pays off for the public servants who bring them to bay. History proves that when the thieves fall out, not only do all honest men get their due, but a few get a great deal of publicity, which skyrockets them to fame and fortune.

For instance, early in 1871, three secondaries had a quarrel in N. Y. C. They were ex-Sheriff O'Brien, Controller Connolly and Boss Tweed. O'Brien's revenge consisted of turning over Connolly's records to the N. Y. Times. Tweed promptly offered George Jones, the editor, 5 million dollars not to publish them. ## Lung Cancer Study To Be Made Here

The Monroe county unit of the Pennsylvania division, American Cancer society, has full approval to participate in an unprecedented research study on smoking in an effort to determine what, if any, effect it has on lung cancer.

The project, a volunteer statistical research program advocated by the society's national headquarters in New York City, has been approved by the Pennsylvania division's executive committee, the Medical Society of Pennsylvania, and the Board of Directors, Monroe county unit.

L. F. Gerber, the division's executive director, said necessary forms are being distributed and the project will be started shortly after January 1 in at least 33 counties throughout the Commonwealth, including Monroe.

"With one striking exception, namely cancer of the lung which is increasing at an alarming rate, the age adjusted death rates from other types of cancer have changed little in recent years," said Dr. Claus Jordan, president of the Monroe county unit. "Our research program is aimed at finding means of preventing or of detecting and curing these cases."

"Our first choice, if we had a choice, would be to prevent cancers from developing. This is the objective of the science of epidemiology. And the objective of the epidemiological study we are beginning is to determine whether or not smoking is a contributing factor in the development of lung cancer—and if so, to what degree."

"After careful evaluation the society feels that the evidence now at hand is not sufficiently conclusive for the society to go on record one way or the other as to whether smoking is an important factor in the development of lung cancer. However, the subject has become a matter of such great importance that immediate steps must be taken to obtain a valid answer to the question."

Some 10,000 volunteers will be used in the survey which will be conducted from two to five years. Each volunteer will be asked to obtain the smoking history of five or more men between the ages of 50 and 69 years. Each man contacted will be revisited once a year by the volunteer worker in an effort to keep the desired data up to date. Smokers and non-smokers will be used in the survey.

Do Your Legs Itch?

A Lack of Natural Skin Oils Often the Cause
Dry skin, a lack of natural skin oils, often causes itching, persistent itching of legs and ankles. Relieve dry skin with Eucalol, the medicated, oil-rich ointment that lubricates parched skin surface, acts in place of Nature's own missing oils. Eucalol quickly soothes itching almost immediately. Comfort lasts for hours as Eucalol Ointment helps Nature heal irritated parts.

Baritone To Give Concert Sunday Night

Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in the First Presbyterian church of Stroudsburg, Eugene Strong, widely-known Negro baritone, will present a concert of sacred music. Mr. Strong has sung in many of the churches in this area through the years.

Mr. Strong was born in Mississippi and attended the Piney-Woods College in that state. His travels with a quartet during his college days carried him into virtually every state in the union, as well as parts of Canada and Mexico.

For the past ten years, Mr. Strong has been studying voice in the Bethlehem Conservatory of Music. Just recently he started the first amateur hour in that city so that children and young people of all races and creeds might have opportunity to explore their possibilities and display their talent.

Outstanding among the numbers that Mr. Strong will sing on Sunday night are the following: "Lord I Want to be a Christian" by Willie; "Going Home" by Dvorak; "It Is Enough" by Mendelssohn; "The Ninety and Nine" by Sankey; and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

One of the highlights will be Mr. Strong's reading entitled "The Little Black Sheep." Mr. Strong will be accompanied by William B. Rohn, who will also play two piano solos.

New York has a greater theater seating capacity than any other state.

ESHS Adopts New Council Constitution

Students of East Stroudsburg High school voted overwhelming approval yesterday of a new "constitution" drawn up by the high school Student council.

Official tallies showed 282 affirmative and 17 negative votes had been cast in the secret voting in home rooms yesterday morning.

Voting followed a summary discussion of the proposed governmental set-up in classes Wednesday and a special assembly presented by the council in an effort to acquaint students with the matter in question.

Officials at the school termed the turnout at the "polls" a large one. The voting was called "thoroughly democratic".

Board Orders Repairs At County Home

Plumbing repairs were ordered yesterday following an inspection of the county home by Commissioners Amzi F. Altomose, W. Adolph Rake and Granville Shifler.

The commissioners spent the morning touring the home's facilities, and convened at the court house in the afternoon.

Ordered were: repairs to the circulator system; a new water supply line to the women's lavatory; and all float valves to be put in proper working order.

Plumber C. R. Setzer, Stroudsburg, who has done other plumbing work at the home, was also instructed to check on the condition of the boiler and jacket and report to the commissioners.

The county home trip marked the beginning of the commissioners' inspection of county-operated facilities.

Commissioners said a tentative set-up for the veterans affairs office will call for an office chief, with one clerk. Salaries will range around $1,800 to $2,000 for the chief, and $35 a week for the clerk.

No veteran affairs head has yet been chosen. Commissioners plan to make the appointment from among men recommended by the county's eight veterans' organizations.

Chief Clerk Harry Taylor was instructed to inventory the entire court house and all county offices. Apparently no such inventory of items like typewriters, desks, chairs, files, has been kept in the past.

Other business transacted: purchase of a typewriter with 15-inch carriage for the district attorney's office was approved; plans were made for installation of light fixtures, window shades and a work table at the new Veterans Affairs office in a building adjoining the court house; stationary supplies were ordered for the register and recorder's office.

Commissioners adjourned until 9 a. m. Monday.

Miss Ruth Burger

Ruth Burger Engaged To Paul Haydt

Kunkletown — Mr. and Mrs. James D. Burger, of Kunkletown, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Paul David Haydt, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Haydt, also of Kunkletown.

Miss Burger attended Polk Township High school, Kresgeville, and Mr. Haydt attended Lehigh Valley High school, Lehigh.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Stroud Twp. Fire Co. Aux. Plans Attendance Drive

The auxiliary to the Stroud Township Volunteer Fire department, meeting Wednesday night at the firehouse in Middle Stroud, heard reports of their Christmas distribution of baskets, to the deserving people of the township.

The baskets were filled to overflowing with food which had been donated by members and friends of the auxiliary. The auxiliary president, Mrs. G. Alvin Shook expressed gratitude to all those who had helped to make the project a success, and letters of thanks from the recipients were read.

The auxiliary also voted to contribute to the Monroe County drive for the Infantile Paralysis fund.

The next meeting will also be held at the Middle Stroud firehouse, and will have as its motto: "Each Member Bring One or More Members With Her." There will be refreshments served by Mrs. Clyde White, Mrs. Ernest Angleymer, Mrs. LeRoy Smith, Mrs. James Shiffer, Mrs. Franklin Rehm, and Mrs. John Parker.

ITU Auxiliary Contributes To March Of Dimes

The auxiliary to the International Typographical union contributed $40, the proceeds from their recent bread and cake sale, to the March of Dimes for Infantile Paralysis at their meeting held at the CLU club on Wednesday night.

Mrs. Emily Seiverson, president, presided at the meeting. Tentative plans were made for a covered dish supper on February 16, and the auxiliary gave a note of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Strauss for their help with the Christmas party for children.

Refreshments were served by Marjory Swink, Verona Michaels, Jean Murphy and Mary Meisell.

Mrs. Betty Andre President Of Willing Workers

Arlington Heights — The Willing Workers class of the Arlington Heights chapel elected officers at the meeting held Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Betty Andre. Mrs. Betty Andre was elected president; Mrs. M. Andre, vice president; Freda Colvin, secretary-treasurer; Ann Fritz, assistant treasurer; Nancy Fritz, flower committee and Jackie Heller, social reporter.

A social and covered dish supper followed the business meeting, and the birthdays of Mrs. J. Tease, Mrs. Butz and Mrs. M. Andre were celebrated.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, February 5 at 8 o'clock at the Andre home.

The following members attended the meeting: Mrs. E. Evans, Mrs. E. Parker, Mrs. Freda Colvin, Mrs. Ann Fritz, Mrs. Vivian Butz, Mrs. Mayme Andre, Mrs. Olive Mering, Mrs. Ethel Tease, Mrs. Leylia Heller, Miss Nancy Fritz, Mrs. Judy Zwalley and Miss Jackie Heller.

Ceremonial Tonight

All women of the Moose have been asked to honor their late senior regent, Ruth Smith, tonight. They will meet at the Moose home, Washington St., at 6:45 p.m. to practice the Moose burial ceremony which they will present later tonight at the funeral home. All members, as well as officers, are requested to wear white, if possible.

Pocono Club Gardeners Open Year

Tannersville — The Pocono Garden Club met at the firehouse on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Millard Rice, the new president, giving an address of welcome. Report of the Auditing Committee was read by Mrs. Charles Brader, the chairman.

A brief outline of suggestions for the Flower Show this year were given by Mrs. John Smith. Mrs. Robert Stadden, chairman of the roadside beautification committee, asked the permission of the club to go ahead in the petitioning to have a blinker installed at the Bartonville corner, which was granted, in the hope something definite may be accomplished in that situation.

Awards for the monthly exhibits were presented by Mrs. John Smith to the following: 1st prize with 76 points, Mrs. J. C. Allegar; tie for second prize with 64 points each, Mrs. Samuel Dunbar and Mrs. Haviland Heller; third prize with 34 points, Mrs. Leon Parcell. Only 16 members of the club had participated in making these exhibits during the year and Mrs. Canfield suggested other ways to make the monthly exhibits more interesting as an incentive for more members to take part in this phase of the club's work.

Mrs. Canfield also spoke of the exhibits on display at the Christmas banquet, which were felt to be outstanding. The awards for those exhibits were: Mrs. J. C. Allegar, first; Mrs. Stanley Hartman, second and Mrs. Samuel Dunbar and Mrs. Haviland Heller again tying for third. Mrs. Canfield mentioned that anyone interested in flower arrangements could take a correspondence course from Penn State or through Mr. Ifft's office.

The club decided to purchase a few necessary window shades and pull cords. The matter of procuring bulbs in large quantity will be decided at the Feb. meeting.

A new project for the club was suggested by Mrs. Mathiasen, a "Pocono Garden Scrap Book" in which could be kept pertinent data.

Two visitors, Mrs. Paul Frazee and Mrs. Anna Lang were welcomed to the meeting. Mrs. Canfield introduced the speaker, Thomas Knepp, who showed colored slides of "Birds of Monroe County," also of the beautiful flower gardens at the Mathiasen home. Many of the members paid their dues.

The refreshment table was decorated in a New Year motif, with Mrs. Samuel Dunbar and her committee serving.

John Edinger Is Honored On 92nd Birthday

John F. Edinger, of 126 Center St., East Stroudsburg, is today celebrating his 92nd birthday. Still vigorous in spite of his years, Mr. Edinger is still walking to Stroudsburg and back, even through the winter weather.

He was the guest of honor at a family dinner party held last Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Paul Heller, Broad St., Stroudsburg.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The season is advancing, though you couldn't prove it by the looks of the weather. That snowbank by the garage is getting to take on all the aspects of a landmark, and one snowy dawn is very much like the next grey dawn.

But when the historical society announces its annual meetings, then you know that mid-winter is approaching, and probably the snowiest night of the year. However, weather never seems to bother the historians much, and they turn out in force just the same.

And time, itself, doesn't seem to affect John Edinger much. Today his years roll around to 92 but he can still walk to Stroudsburg and back, which is something that many of us would hesitate to tackle these slippery slidy days.

Think probably, though, that this is the time of year when most of us reach our lowest ebb. It seems such an eternity until spring. Once the sun gets up earlier enough so that you can have breakfast without lights, you sort of feel that you're over the hump, and can make it through blizzards and mud holes.

Good time to have those historical meetings, too. Gives you a perspective that makes a few weeks seem mighty short. Maybe that's Mr. Edinger's secret, too. After you've lived through ninety-two winters, another one can't seem too much of a muckiness.

Listen To — Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:05 a.m.

Former War Bride To Visit Home In Australia

Delaware Water Gap — A farewell party was held Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. John Merritt, in Delaware Water Gap in honor of Mrs. Marjorie Jago, who is leaving February 7 with her son, John, to visit her parents in Australia.

She has not seen her parents since coming to America in 1947 as the bride of an American soldier.

She was presented with a farewell gift, and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Van Syckle President Of Press Auxiliary

Mrs. Hazel Van Syckle was elected president of the Ladies' auxiliary of the Printing Pressmen and Assistants union at the meeting held Tuesday night at the CLU club.

Other officers elected included Dorothy Andrews, vice president; Alveta Goucher, recording secretary; Edna Topfer, corresponding secretary; Elsie Rogers, treasurer; Helen Holland, sergeant-at-arms.

Alma Dellaria, Gwen Hollis, Connie Baker, Florence Sipthoth and Evelyn Slutter, executive committee; Connie Baker, Dot Andrews, membership committee; and Helen Holland, LaMoss Heller, Anna Schaller, Gwen Hollis and Sonya James, social committee; Alma Dellaria, sick committee.

Plans were made for a banquet in February with further details to be announced in the paper at a later date.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated in the New Year's motif. Hostesses were Connie Baker, Elsie Rogers, and Dot Andrews. Next month's hostesses will be Anna Schaller, LaMoss Heller and Evelyn Slutter.

Historians Election On Saturday

The annual business meeting of the Monroe County Historical society will be held Saturday, January 12, at 2:30 p. m., at the Stroud Community House, and the annual dinner meeting is scheduled for Thursday, January 17, at 6:30 p. m., at the Penn-Stroud hotel.

All society members are urged to attend the annual business meeting when officers and directors will be elected for the coming year. Earl Groner, president, will preside at the business meeting, when reports, election of officers, and the report of the curator of the historical society's museum will be highlighted.

The dinner meeting will feature an address by Dr. S. K. Stevens, president of the Pennsylvania Historical commission. Reservations may be made with Miss Lulu A. Shafer, Tel. 881, or Roger Dunning, 3758.

Sunshine Class Entertained At Christensen's

The Sunshine class of the East Stroudsburg Methodist church, meeting Tuesday night at the home of Miss Christine Christensen, heard the report of the class gift of $300 at the white gift service in December.

Mrs. Vernon Garis, president, presided at the business meeting when plans were made to serve dinner for the Exchange club on January 28.

The program included a reading, "Today" given by Mrs. Devey Jacoby, and a Bible quiz, as well as the New Year's resolutions written by the members.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Walter Brown and her committee.

Miss Delp Is President Of Fidelity Class

Portland — Class Fidelity of the Presbyterian church opened the new year with a meeting at the manse on Wednesday night, when officers were elected for the coming year: Miss Kathryn Delp, president; Mrs. Lela Pipher, vice president; Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter, secretary; and Mrs. Morris Hauser, treasurer.

Mrs. Olin Cramer, retiring president, presided at the business meeting and devotional session, and Mr. Arthur Barrton gave the report of the nominating committee of which she was chairman and which included: Mrs. E. L. Kennedy and Miss Agnes Williams.

Plans were made for a cherry pie sale on Washington's birthday, and the class voted to give $100 to the building fund of the church.

A social hour with refreshments followed. Present were: Mrs. Arthur Barrton, Mrs. Lela Williams, Miss Agnes Williams, Mrs. Glen Cave, Mrs. Olin Cramer, Mrs. G. J. Davies, Mrs. Marjorie Snyder, Mrs. Raymond Transue, Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter, Mrs. Carl Kramer Sr., Mrs. Lela Pipher, Mrs. Wayne Van Vorst, Mrs. C. J. Knealing, Miss Alice Delp, Mrs. Eugene Miller, Mrs. Morris Houser, Miss Kathryn Delp, and the hostess, Mrs. D. R. Edwards.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Kennedy, on February 13.

Representatives elected to the Girl Scout planning board are: Bethany Denning and Donna Grove, while those chosen to meet with Dr. Madelon Powers of the Juliette Low fund are Kathleen Edinger and Judy Jordan.

The Fairies selected Faith Zahorik as patrol leader, Sandra Tretheway secretary and Linda Haigh treasurer.

The new officers for the Elves are: Patsy Bridge patrol leader, Joan Dippie secretary and Kathy Putnam treasurer.

EDWARD KUTZLER, of Pocono Pines, celebrating a birthday in warmer climes, at party in Florida.

Party Marks Birthday In Florida

Fort Pierce, Fla. — Edward Kutzler, of Pocono Pines, who is spending the winter in Florida, was recently the guest of honor at a party held at the home of Mrs. Anna Mack, of Fort Pierce, Fla.

The guests included many Monroe countians including Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herman, of Cherry Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Snyder, Miss Mabel Altomose, Carol Ann Altomose, Mrs. Harry Altomose, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Halstead, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kutzler, all of Pocono Pines; Mrs. Ralph Wright, Dick and Ray Mack, of Fort Pierce, and the hostess, Mrs. Anna Mack.

Red Cross Fund Chairman Launches Drive Plans

The 1952 Red Cross Fund campaign committee met yesterday afternoon at the Red Cross headquarters for the first meeting with the chairman of the 1952 fund campaign, Robert Schell.

The committee will contact the captains of last year's successful campaign. The date of this year's campaign, set by national headquarters, is throughout the month of March.

Meeting with Mr. Schell were George Robinson, Monroe county chapter chairman; LeRoy Mikels, chairman of the finance committee; and Mrs. Ida B. Kunkle, executive director.

Brownie Units Elect Leaders For New Year

Brownies of Girl Scout Troop No. 1 at their meeting this week at which the Elves and Fairies had perfect attendance, selected their officers for the coming year.

Representatives elected to the Girl Scout planning board are: Bethany Denning and Donna Grove, while those chosen to meet with Dr. Madelon Powers of the Juliette Low fund are Kathleen Edinger and Judy Jordan.

The Fairies selected Faith Zahorik as patrol leader, Sandra Tretheway secretary and Linda Haigh treasurer.

The new officers for the Elves are: Patsy Bridge patrol leader, Joan Dippie secretary and Kathy Putnam treasurer.

200-Year-Old Church Plans Renovations

Shawnee-on-Delaware — The congregation of the Shawnee Presbyterian church, at the annual congregational meeting held Wednesday, January 4, in the parish house, voted for the complete program of renovation suggested by the committee in charge of the 200th anniversary celebration of the church.

The approval was voted subject to the final approval of the board of trustees of the church.

Rev. Hubert Newton of Delaware Water Gap served as moderator of the congregational meeting when Robert K. Christenberry and Irvin Walter were elected to the board of ruling elders for three year terms and Sterling Walter was elected to the board of deacons.

At the corporation meeting, with Spencer Cramer, president of the board of trustees presiding, Charles Balmoss and Spencer Cramer were elected for three-year terms as trustees.

Reports were given by Mrs. John Heller, superintendent, and Mrs. Omar Michaels Jr., treasurer of the Sunday school; Mrs. Robert Bradburn, choir leader; Mrs. Ross Fuller, president, and Mrs. Willard Stettler, treasurer of the Woman's auxiliary; Abram Kulp, Westminster Youth Fellowship; and Spence Cramer, the church clerk of the session, the church's yearly report.

Rev. Robert Bradburn gave the report of the financial committee for the 200th anniversary celebration of the church, in the absence of Frank L. Patterson Jr., chairman of that committee.

The congregational meeting was preceded by a covered dish supper.

St. Mary's Guild Combines Meeting, Parish Supper

The January meeting of St. Mary's guild of Christ Episcopal church has been postponed and instead there will be a covered dish supper for guild as well as parish members and their families in the parish house on January 22 at 6 o'clock. Members are to bring a covered dish and their own table service. No charge will be made.

There will be a short business meeting preceding the supper.

Members will also bring their discarded Christmas cards, as the guild will collect them and send them to a children's hospital.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Here we are with rain and sleet making a slushy pudding of the pavements, and through my head is running a song that's hardly seasonal at all . . . "Here Comes Peter Cottontail." I suppose it's due to a mixture of outside influences . . . but if that rabbit doesn't stop hop, hop, hopping in and out of my thoughts, I'm going to go rabbit hunting . . . even if there is a law.

It all began the other day when several of us paused to admire the hats Maude Walton is so proudly displaying now. "Isn't that the most delicious shade of pink?" one of the girls crooned, and another one piped up, "Doesn't it make you think of Easter?" Well, it does . . . it's a dear little scoop-type affair, made of overlapping pink blossoms, dew-dropped with rhinestones, and a tiny eye-catching veil. It reminds me not only of Easter, but of dinners-for-two in a restaurant that specializes in candlelight and soft music. Or of a Valentine, all lacy-edged and ruffled, with sentimental verses. It made me pause to consider that such a hat can do a woman a tremendous amount of good . . . even if it doesn't go beyond the point of making her feel that she is, indeed, a rather special person, capable of being glamorous if given half a chance.

Those thoughts were still in mind, when I wandered into the receiving room and saw some large bamboo crates right from China. And all around, being ticketed, were hundreds of baskets . . . just the size for you to use at Easter for candy and colored eggs. In the arcade and on a center aisle table were dozens of other baskets in all shapes and sizes, beautifully woven and priced from 49 cents to $1.00 . . . perfect for table arrangements, marketing, or countless other uses.

Then yesterday I went to our Rummage Sale and saw another display . . . of EGGS. Colored ones, as Easterish as you please . . . but these are of celluloid and contain "flip-back" measuring tapes. Oh, how they remind me of Easter. So here I am back to the old theme, "Here Comes Peter Cottontail." And who knows, before he arrives, I may even be pals with "Harvey."

Effort, Pa., January 7, 1952
To the Editor
Daily Record
Stroudsburg, Pa.
Dear Sir:

Your announcement of our district attorney's intention to introduce a course in law in our high schools, was very good news indeed. It surely would be of great benefit to our high schools students and the community as well, if the fundamentals of law, as needed in every day life, were taught. Kindly give Mr. Christ-tine, your full support in the matter, so he will succeed with his plan.

On this occasion I like to mention, that I would not find it contrary to the principles of our constitution, if divine law was taught in our schools. The teaching of the ten commandments, or the life of Moses or Christ, would enlighten our children more than the teaching of customs and habits of ancient nations and their rulers, which is part of world history, a compulsory subject in our schools.

However, I am strongly opposed to the introduction of religion in our public school system, as such an act would be exploited by so many denominations.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. Elizabeth K. Feischer

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Boston Red Sox fans of Monroe County and surrounding area who were looking forward to a big season under new manager Lou Boudreau received a terrific jolt on Wednesday, when it was learned that Ted Williams had been recalled to active duty by the Marine air corps. Williams, very popular in some camps and just as unpopular in others, is regarded as one of the best hitters in the history of baseball and his absence will be keenly felt, both at the plate and in the field.

Just when many of the Yankee fans were breathing a sigh of relief, especially since the New York club was reportedly in the market for Williams as late as last month, word arrived that Gerry Coleman, who held down second base last season when Gil McDougald covered third, had been recalled to duty by the same organization. The recent trend indicates that several other major league clubs will feel the sting of recall orders, especially if any of their key performers were officers in either the Marines or Navy during World War II.

While major league diamond fans were crying over the loss of their various stars, followers of the Stroudsburg High school cage machine were rejoicing over the fact that Alden "Red" Fetherman, team captain, will return to the lineup for tonight's tussle with Lehigh, on the W. Main St. hardwood. Fetherman missed the Emmaus contest because of intestinal gripe. The fact that the Mountaineers are at full strength adds hope that they will account for their initial league win tonight, after suffering a pair of reversals.

East Stroudsburg High, having played two straight Lehigh-Northampton League contests on the road, will play the same number at home before departing for foreign courts once again. The Cavaliers entertain Coplay tonight and Bangor next Wednesday, both on the N. Courtland St. gymnasium. Bill Schmidt continues to pace the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College offensive, but the Warriors have dropped four of six basketball games thus far this season.

Harry Spittle, star of the Belvidere High football team that played East Stroudsburg in 1950, is currently leading the Hunterdon County Basketball League in scoring, while holding down a berth on the Belvidere American Legion cage machine. Spittle tossed in 69 points in his first three games, accounting for his total on 27 field goals and 15 conversions from the foul line. Whitehall High is no longer playing its home basketball games at Rockne Hall, but has moved to its own very unpopular home court.

The Baltimore Elite Giants, and New Orleans Eagles, both scheduled to play exhibitions at Bangor Memorial Park last season, have been dropped from the Negro American League. The circuit will operate with six teams during the coming campaign. The Chicago American Giants, another Bangor visitor and member of the Negro American League, will be looking for a new home base next season, due to the fact that they no longer will be allowed to use Comiskey Park, where they have played their home games for the past 16 years.

Paul shooting in Monroe County as a whole showed a terrific improvement last week, although several teams continued to find the range almost unbeatable. ESSTC put on a brilliant display from the foul line against Panzer, even while losing. The Warriors canned 22 of 29 free throws. Following the mid-term examinations, swimming, wrestling and basketball for the girls will take its place in the limelight up on Normal Hill, along with varsity basketball.

Among those reporting for induction yesterday were Melvin "Milt" Johnson, former basketball star at Pocono Lake and Ray Mery, outstanding in the same sport at East Stroudsburg High a few years back. Those interested in entering the women's Head Pin Tournament at Harmon's alleys are urged to move quickly as the initial action is listed for 6 p. m. tomorrow. It's the second time in as many years that this type of tournament has been held.

Lloyd Sterner, first basemen with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1947 and a basketball official of note in this locality, is scheduled to coach the Lehigh Valley League team at Allentown, in the Junior American Legion Baseball League next summer. Sterner held down the initial sack when Jack Farmer piloted the Poconos and the local North Atlantic League entry had a working agreement with the Yankees.

Wake Forest Wins
Wake Forest, N. C., (AP)—Wake Forest overcame a 34-17 second half deficit last night to defeat North Carolina, 55-53, in a basketball thriller. Center Dickie Jemric tied up the regulation game, 49-49, in the final 35 seconds with a field goal.

Mountaineers Tangle With Lehigh

Stroudsburg High will be looking for its first win of the season against Lehigh Valley League competition tonight, when the Mountaineers are at home against a tall, highly regarded Lehigh High contingent that has divided a pair of circuit starts this season. The Mountaineers have dropped their only two league appearances.

The junior varsity game between the two clubs is listed for 7 p. m.

LEHIGH VALLEY LEAGUE Standings
Team	W	L	Pct.
Catsaqua	2	0	1.000
Emmaus	2	0	1.000
Whitehall	2	0	1.000
Palmerton	1	1	.500
Lehigh	1	1	.500
Stroudsburg	0	2	.000
Northampton	0	2	.000
Shatington	0	2	.000

7 p. m. and the varsity grind one hour later.

Stroudsburg, who fashioned four victories against as many pre-season foes, has found league rivals too tough to handle, bowing to both Palmerton and Emmaus.

However, the Mountaineers will be strengthened by the return of Captain Alden "Red" Fetherman, who missed the Emmaus contest because of illness.

Full Strength
Coach Sam Russell announced last night that his team would be at full strength for the invasion of the Indians. He also pointed out that same lineup that has carried the bulk of the load this season will be intact once again.

Fetherman and Dave "Muscles" Everett will operate at forward, while high scoring Gene Caski handles the center duties. Karl Weingartner and Jack Newell will be stationed in the guard spots. Lehigh, who dropped a close decision to Catsaqua and then came back to down Palmerton, features a high scoring aggregation with plenty of altitude to spare.

Following tonight's contest the Mountaineers return to action next Tuesday, with Catsaqua invading the W. Main St. court.

Bangor Meets Pen Argyl

Bangor — Bangor High school takes part in its first of two top basketball games of the season tonight, when the Saters invade the home domain of Pen Argyl, their arch rival in any sport.

The junior varsity engagement will begin at 6:45 p. m., while the feature Lehigh-Northampton League tilt is slated to get underway somewhere in the vicinity of 8:15.

Records
Bangor has won only one of four circuit games this season, while Pen Argyl will place a mark of two wins and the same number of setbacks on the line.

The Slaters will undoubtedly feature a starting array of Joe D'Imperio and Asa Pyscher at the forward slots and Jim Rowlands at center. Bob Egbert and Joe Heard will probably open the game at the guard positions.

Northampton Grid Star Dropped

Athens, Ga. (AP)—Eighteen University of Georgia football players, 11 of them freshmen, were dropped yesterday because of scholastic deficiencies.

Two Lettermen
The list, announced by assistant Coach Bill Hartman, who is chairman of the University Scholarship committee, includes only two varsity lettermen—Sophomore full-back Francis DiPietro, a defensive specialist from Ashtabula, O., and Ed Filipovits, senior end from Northampton, Pa., were the letter winners.

"We have always set a high scholarship standard for our athletes," coach Hartman explained, "and the 18 failed to maintain those standards although given every opportunity to do so and with the assistance of tutoring."

Swim Meet Today

An area Boy Scout swim meet, originally scheduled for the first week in January, has now been set for today at Lafayette College, Easton.

Women To Hold Head Pin Tourney Tomorrow
James Harmon, proprietor of Harmon's Recreation, announced last night that the second annual women's Head Pin Bowling tournament would be held on tomorrow night. The tournament will consist of three games across six alleys, with an entrance fee of two dollars. One dollar will go toward prize money and the second dollar for expenses.

Prize
First prize is listed at 50 percent of the gate, with other prizes depending upon the size of the gate. Action is listed for 6, 7, 8 and 9 p. m.

Those interested in entering are urged to call 8026 or 751-J to make their entry official.

Tobyhanna Township Launches Bid For Third Straight Title As County League Opens Doors

Tobyhanna Township High school will launch its quest for a third straight Monroe County League basketball title tonight and the remaining five members of the circuit will be just as determined to turn the maroon and gold clad eagles down in their bid for the top prize in the circuit.

All six teams will see action tonight as the circuit moves into its initial 1952 program.

TTHS will launch its title bid

Merriman, Coleman Latest To Be Called

By Gayle Talbot

New York (AP)—Baseball, still feeling the shock of Ted Williams' call-up, received a couple more jolts yesterday with the news that the Marine Air Corps also has recalled infielder Gerry Coleman of the New York Yankees and outfielder Lloyd Merriman of the Cincinnati Reds to active duty.

Like Williams, $100,000-plus beauty of the Boston Red Sox, Coleman and Merriman have been ordered to report April 2 for physical examinations. If found fit all three will go on active duty May 2 for at least 17 months.

Down in Montgomery, Ala., Willie Mays, rookie outfield sensation of the New York Giants, was ordered to report for another test on January 16. Willie failed to pass his mental aptitude test on his first try last October.

Club owners began to scan their player rosters and fret. Few big league teams but have a key player or two who is a reserve officer from World War Two. If they were in the Navy or Marines their prospects of being recalled soon appear brighter than if they were in the Army.

Waiting
Outfielder Bob Kennedy of the Cleveland Indians, who taught Williams how to fly at Pensacola, expects to hear from the Marine Air Corps any time now. He's a first lieutenant. Al Rosen, the club's star third-baseman, was a deck officer in the Navy.

Captain Al Dark of the Giants was an officer in the Marines. Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's home run clouter, was a Navy pilot. So was pitcher Joe Coleman of the Philadelphia Athletics. That is just a small sampling, sufficient to give some idea of what might lie ahead. The draft will, of course, continue to make heavy inroads on the younger talent.

Williams said yesterday he had not decided whether to report for spring training.

"You have to do your duty when you're told," the slugger outfielder said in reference to his call back into service for 17 months.

"I don't know what I'm going to do now," he added. "This came so suddenly I haven't decided whether to report for spring training."

Then he added with a smile: "You know, fishing is awful good down here around April."

The Boston Red Sox are scheduled to start spring training late next month at Sarasota, on the Florida west coast.

State Upsets Syracuse

State College (AP)—Penn State defeated Syracuse last night 61-57 in a wild game which saw the officials call 61 fouls. Jesse Arnette led the Nittany Lions with 18 points and virtually put the game on ice in the third period when he tallied eight points.

on its home court, as the charges of Coach Carl Majer put their present undefeated record on the line against Pocono High. There will be both a junior varsity and varsity encounter.

However, the number one game of the night will pit Coolbaugh against Barrett on the latter's hardwood. Both are considered as chief challenges to the honors currently held by TTHS.

Sherman Theater, Warriors Triumph In Senior Y Action

Sherman Theater and the Warriors accounted for victories in the Senior Y league on the Monroe County YMCA court last night. The Sherman aggregation slugged MIU, 49-35, while the Warriors scalped the Collegians, 45-40.

Run Wild

The opening game found the Sherman five moving out to a big ten-point lead at the end of the first period and dominating the play for the remainder of the distance, except for the third stanza.

Action in the nightcap found the Warriors outlasting a terrific finishing kick by the Collegians that failed by five points of deadlocking the count.

Castellani, Durando Clash

New York (AP)—Sharp-shooting "Rocky" Castellani of Teaneck, N. J., will be aiming for his eleventh straight victory tonight when he faces Ernie "the Rock" Durando of Bayonne, N. J., in a return ten-rounder in Madison Square Garden.

Fights Back
Castellani had to get off the deck to beat the durable Durando in their first meeting in the Garden two years ago. He was dropped in the third by one of Ernie's powerful rights.

Although the Rock of Bayonne has learned since that you can use a left hand to punch with as well as to hold a fork, the 24-year-old Castellani has been established an eight to five favorite.

Four Matches Listed

Four matches are on tap for the Twin-Boro Ladies' League tonight, at the Pocono Bowling Center. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two — Weidemann's Feeds vs Thomas Funeral Home.

Alleys three and four — Bartonsville Hotel vs National Drug.

Alleys five and six — Monroe Distributors vs Ronson.

Alleys seven and eight — Marsh's Foundry vs Lawson Automotive.

Feller Receives Raise

Cleveland (AP)—Bob Feller got a pay raise yesterday and wondered if earning some $55,000 from the Cleveland Indians in 1952 might not be easier with Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams gone. "I hate to see those fellows dropping out," Feller said at his annual contract-signing ceremony —his fourteenth. "Ted always hit me pretty good, but DiMaggio and Tommy Henrich were even tougher."

ed quintet, will tangle with Chestnut Hill, on the Brodheadville hardwood.

The doors in each case will open at 6:45 p. m., with the exception of Bordheadville, where the doors are scheduled to open 15 minutes earlier.

In each case the junior varsity tilt is listed for 7:15 and the main event one hour later.

Students will be admitted for 30 cents and adults for twice the amount.

Barber Shop, Cramer's Five Gain Verdicts

Frank's Barber Shop came through with a blistering finish to win one of two Senior High League basketball games at the Monroe County YMCA yesterday, 42-41. The second game on the agenda featured Cramer's Cut Rate in a convincing 69-31 decision over the Pioneers.

Opponents in the first game featured one team in the lead and then the other, until Frank's club came fighting from the rear with a 15-10 edge during the final eight minutes.

Different
However, the second contest was a little different, as Cramer's contingent rode into the lead in the opening round and stretched the lead during the remainder of the contest.

High scoring honors for the day went to George Lotts, who drove home 11 field goals and seven foul shots, for a total of 29 points.

Movie Star In Fight Picture

Seattle (AP)—The Times said yesterday Sonja Henie was the person interested in backing a heavy-weight title fight between Jersey Joe Walcott and Harry "Kid" Matthews in Los Angeles.

Walcott, the champion, said Wednesday in Camden, N. J., he had been offered $250,000 and half the television receipts for the battle, adding "a great female movie star" made the offer.

Interested
Jack Hurley, Matthews' manager, said in Seattle he had not been contacted but would be interested in such a project. He made a trip to New York last month to sound out the Walcott camp but has not disclosed what transpired.

The paper did not reveal the source of its information.

Cavaliers Entertain Coplay Crew

East Stroudsburg will be out to even its Lehigh-Northampton League record at two wins and the same number of defeats tonight, but the Cavaliers have picked a tough nut to crack in Coplay, who will be making its one and only appearance of the year on the N. Courtland St. hardwood.

Coplay is currently among the leaders in the circuit and is certainly counted among the teams

LEHIGH-NORTHAMPTON LEAGUE Standings

East Stroudsburg	1	2	.333
Bangor	1	2	.333
Fountain Hill	0	3	.000

to beat in the run for the roses.

East Stroudsburg opened the present circuit campaign with a one-sided verdict over Nazareth, but since that time has gone down to defeat at the hands of Parkland and Wilson Borough, the former by 40 points and the latter by two.

Lineup

Coach Dick Forster isn't expected to make any major changes in his array of talent for tonight's contest. The forward slots will be manned by Joe Chase and Jack Tredinnick, while reliable Ray Steele handles the center duties. The guard positions will be in the capable hands of Paul "Candy" Miller and Dick Newton.

However, reports indicate that John "Juice" Arnt may see more action tonight than he has in the past.

The junior varsity engagement between the two teams is scheduled to get underway at 6:45, while the main event is listed for approximately 8:15.

Following tonight's contest East Stroudsburg remains idle until next Wednesday, when the Cavaliers play host to Bangor, in another Lehigh-Northampton League contest.

Loyola, Duke Pull Surprises

New York (AP)—Dick Groat paced Duke to a thrilling 74-72 triumph over New York University last night to complete a double upset after Loyola of Chicago defeated St. John's of Brooklyn 68-64, in a college basketball double-header at Madison Square Garden.

Great
Groat lived up to all his advance notices. He treated a crowd of 6,538 to a brilliant all around exhibition of shooting, passing and ball handling. The nation's leading scorer last season, he tallied 22 points, was directly responsible for six more baskets with well-timed assists and did most of the ball handling as he played all 40 minutes.

It was Groat's spectacular one hander in the closing minutes followed by a tap-in and free throw by D'Emilio that enabled the Blue Devils to stave off a desperate late rally by the Violets that almost pulled the game out of the fire.

Penn To Oppose Television Plan

Cincinnati (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania, which last fall rebelled against and then bowed to the NCAA's restricted football television freedom, is still fighting for all-out freedom of broadcasts.

Francis T. Murray, Penn's militant athletic director, carried the fight—which appeared a losing one—to the floor of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's forty-sixth convention yesterday.

After listening to a 31-page report by the television committee lauding the results of the restricted program and advocating that it be continued, Murray offered a 14-page rebuttal and said he's "in the line punching" for unrestricted telecasts until voted down today.

Pocono Mountains Basketball Loop Releases Regular Slate

George Metropoulos, secretary-treasurer of the Pocono Mountain Basketball league, released the 1952 schedule for publication last night. The circuit, comprised of four teams, will open its agenda on Monday, with two games. Each contest is slated to get under way at 8:15.

Games

West End will tangle with Pocono Lake, on the Tobyhanna Township High court, on opening night, while Tobyhanna and Tannersville clash at Pocono High school, at the same time.

The circuit winds up its campaign on Thursday, February 28.

Schedule follows

Greene-Dreher Plays Host To Moscow

Newfoundland — Still looking for its first Wayne County Basketball Conference victory and its initial success in 1952, Greene-Dreher Sterling takes on the Moscow Trojans here today at 8 p. m.

It's been a hard pull for the Stags since the new year bowed in. They've been upset by Lake Township in their only WCC start and dropped an overtime decision to Tobyhanna Township, kinsmen of the Monroe County league.

Moscow, on the other hand, has shown surprising strength in downing Hawley and extending Honesdale Monday night before being stopped, 34-32. The Trojans were hard hit by last June's graduation but apparently have come up with some solid talent from one source or another.

Same Group

Coach Henry "Hank" Arneberg hasn't indicated any shake-up in his lineup despite the two-game losing streak. He'll go with Jack Davies at center, Bobby Adams and Jack Barry at forwards and Ray Phillips and Bill Lee at guards with Scot Brown, Fran Curtis and Ron Kinney ready on the bench.

Only one other game is scheduled in the loop. That brings together Damascus (1-4) and Lake Township (2-3) at Lake Ariel.

Scranton Inks New Cage Coach

Scranton (AP) — Herbie Gerson, Paterson, N. J., was yesterday named coach of the Scranton Miners, pro basketball team in the American League, to succeed Bernie Sarachek, Brooklyn, N. Y., who resigned. The entire Scranton team quit with Sarachek after they refused to take a salary cut because of the lack of attendance at league games.

In announcing appointment of Gerson, Joseph Maloney, owner of the Miners, said a whole new team is being selected.

Teams To Elect Officers

Saylorsburg — John Wernet, secretary of the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, announced last night that the circuit would hold a reorganizational meeting on Monday, January 21.

Wernet also pointed out that the meeting would be held here at the Lake House, and not at Bartonsville Hotel as in the past.

Election

The main topic of business at the gathering will be the election of officers for 1952.

It was also pointed out that application blanks for entry into the circuit next year have been mailed to each team in the league during the 1951 campaign.

Commercial 'C' Rolls

Commercial "C" League keglers will roll in three matches at the Harmon alleys today, at 9:15 p. m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two — Kreamee Ice Cream vs Worthington Mower.

Alleys three and four — Cole's Drug Store vs Lanterman's Funeral Home.

School Board Lets Contract, Ups Salaries

Cresce — Bills in the amount of $8,124.74 were read and approved for payment at this week's meeting of the Barrett Township Board of School Directors.

Attending the meeting were the five directors, Harry J. Drennan, president; Theodore Vernoy, Earl S. Rose, J. Reed Siglin and H. Irwin Shinnen and the board secretary, Mrs. Lillian M. Price.

A contract for paneling of the gymnasium walls at the school was awarded to Harold Heydt who submitted the lowest estimate for completion of the job. Bids for furnishing fuel oil to the school were opened. Atlantic Refining Co. was the lowest bidder.

In other actions the board raised the salaries of teachers at the school $200 per year in accordance with legislation passed by the 1951 session of the State Legislature, and decided to hold the annual faculty-school board dinner in the school lunch room on Thursday night, Jan. 24.

Committees for this year were named by President Drennan. Among the appointees were Ted Vernoy and Earl Rose, finance and budget; Vernoy and Reed Siglin, building and grounds (maintenance); Vernoy and Siglin, faculty and welfare; Earl Rose and Irwin Shinnen, cafeteria; Siglin and Shinnen, school health; Rose and Shinnen, transportation; Rose and Siglin, sports; Vernoy and Shinnen, members of the playground association.

The president is an ex-officio member of each committee.
